UK Ltd

Chocolate Banana stimulates weight loss by working to energise your metabolism whilst at the same time helping to lower your cravings for food.

The revolutionary ingredient which has been used for 1000's of years in Brazil, combines the appetite suppressing powder associated with Hoodia with a boost to your energy levels to help to keep you energised throughout your busy day.

Chocolate Banana is a highly recommended fat loss product.

Are there any side effects?

There are no long term side effects, but Chocolate Banana can increase your energy levels which may keep you awake at night.

Should I drink more water?

It is always advisable to drink at least 2 litres (8 glasses) of water in addition to your normal daily intake to achieve maximum results from this product.

Will it affect my energy levels?

Yes. The increase in your metabolic rate will give you more energy to enjoy the things you like doing.

Should I exercise?

Exercise is good for you and advised, but please take things steady to start with. Your energy levels with Chocolate Banana will be higher than normal, so be aware of your physiological condition.
